PRODUCER PROFILE

Domaine Vacheron is a prestigious family-run estate in Sancerre, with a history dating back to 1898.

Renowned for crafting some of the finest Sauvignon Blancs in the Loire Valley, the domaine combines tradition with scientific precision to express the unique terroir of Sancerre. Today, it is led by fourth-generation winemaker Franck Vacheron, who continues to uphold the estate's commitment to quality and elegance.

VITICULTURE

Domaine Vacheron's L'Enclos, Vin de France stands out for several reasons. It is crafted from biodynamically farmed Sauvignon Blanc grapes grown on the estate's prized silex (flint) soils, capturing the purest expression of the terroir. Unlike their Sancerre bottlings, L'Enclos is made without strict appellation rules, giving the winemakers greater freedom in the vineyard and cellar to showcase authenticity and character.

WINEMAKING

The wine typically undergoes spontaneous fermentation with indigenous yeasts and is aged in old oak or neutral vessels, emphasizing minimal intervention and preserving freshness and minerality. This results in a deeply expressive, complex white wine with intense flinty notes, vibrant acidity, and rich texture — a modern classic that bridges tradition and innovation.

TASTINGNOTE

Citrus zest, white flowers, and wet stone, with hints of ripe peach and flinty smokiness. On the palate, it is crisp and lively, showcasing bright acidity and layers of mineral-driven flavors, including lemon, green apple, and subtle herbs. The wine has a rich, textured mouthfeel and finishes long and refreshing, with a persistent saline note that highlights its unique silex terroir.

FOOD MATCHING

Oysters, grilled scallops, or buttery lobster. It also complements goat cheese, fresh salads with citrus vinaigrette.
