PRODUCER PROFILE

Le Chiantigiane is a forward-thinking, quality-orientated co-operative in the heart of Chianti.

Since their inception in 1967, this association of growers has achieved great success both domestically and internationally by pooling its resources and expertise. They produce a range of styles including this authentic Chianti and high quality Chianti Riserva, both of which offer outstanding value.

VITICULTURE

Located in the south of Tuscany, the vineyards sit across gently rolling hills that rise to about 400 metres above sea level. The soils here are predominantly sandy, enriched with notable limestone veins. This combination provides excellent drainage, encourages deep root growth, and contributes to the wine's freshness, mineral tension, and aromatic finesse.

WINEMAKING

Fermentation takes place in stainless steel tanks. Near the end of the process, selected Sangiovese grapes—left to dry on the vine—are added to create a well-balanced Governo IGT Toscano. This traditional "Governo" method enhances the wine's structure and refinement. The addition of overripe grapes releases sweet, noble polyphenols, increases alcohol to 13.5% vol., and boosts extract, glycerol, and overall smoothness. The second fermentation is temperature-controlled to extend colour and flavour release, producing a fruitier wine with lasting aromatic and taste characteristics. After this, the Rosso Toscano Governo is racked and undergoes malolactic fermentation for improved balance. Finally, it rests on fine lees, where gentle yeast breakdown adds further softness to the finished wine.

TASTINGNOTE

An intense ruby red, showing purplish hues that gradually shift toward garnet with age. On the nose, it offers pronounced aromas of ripe fruit—especially red cherries—lifted by an elegant violet note. Generous and full-bodied on the palate, it is smooth, well-balanced, and harmonious throughout.

FOOD MATCHING

This wine is a suitable accompaniment to hearty soups, roasted meats, games and cheeses.
