Largesse Sauvignon Blanc, IGP Côtes de Gascogne, France, 2021

Producer Profile

Largesse represents a range of stylish, classic varietals produced in Southern France.

As the name suggests these wines offer generous quantities of ripe, fruit driven character and a backbone of rounded tannins.

Viticulture

The best parcels of Sauvignon Blanc are selected by the winemaker's team and harvested at night.

Winemaking

After harvest the grapes undergo a modern winemaking process. After a 24 hours skin contact, at 6°C, only the premium juices are fermented at low temperature. The intense fruit aromas come from the specific method used to extract all of the fruit flavours from the lees. During the next 40 days the juice is kept at a 0°C temperature then the extracted clear juice contains all of the fruit specs of the grapes. The resulting wine is matured on its fine lees at -2°C until bottling.

Tasting Note

Clear pale lemon in colour, this refreshing blend of Sauvignon Blanc and Colombard has aroma's lemon and apple blossom, with fresh, bright, citrus and gooseberry fruit and zippy acidity on the palate.

Food Matching

Serve this wine very cold as an aperitif, or as a partner with seafood.
